

Cultural Resource Mitigation

The FHWA and the Wyoming State Historic Preservation Office, along with the participation of interested Native American Tribes, will develop and implement a Memorandum of Agreement for mitigation of adverse effects to historic resources. Proposed mitigation would include:

- Documenting the current road condition at any realignment area
- Developing two interpretive sites near the West Summit and Bar Drift to interpret construction of original switchbacks
- Developing detailed photo-documentation and drawings of the existing bridge features before they are dismantled
- Salvaging and reusing existing stone masonry on bridges
- Developing interpretive site at existing historic Lake Creek bridge
